You got to distinguish between [being] bilingual and bicultural. Bilingual is just learning the language; bicultural you understand the culture of the people. And I don't think foreigners learning the language outside China will understand the culture of China. It is if you are doing business there for a few years and you begin to appreciate how different the society is organised and how important it is to cultivate relationships, guanxi (关系).

Singapore's founding Prime Minister Mr Lee Kuan Yew was a visionary leader whose extraordinary wisdom and foresight paved the way for stronger bilateral ties between Singapore and China.

Mr Lee is the Founding Patron of Business China since 2007 and had always been committed to the promotion of bilingualism and biculturalism in Singapore, as exemplified by his strong support towards Business China and its events.

新加坡建国总理李光耀先生是一位高瞻 远瞩、励精图治的政治家,多年来一直致 力于推动新加坡与中国的双边合作。 他准确把握中国改革开放的时间点与契 机,为两国开辟与构建了许多交流平台。

2007年,李先生倡议成立通商中国,并担 任通商中国的创会赞助人。他经常出席通 商中国的活动,显示了他对推动新加坡双 语双文化的发展尤其重视。

As Patron of Business China, Singapore's third Prime Minister, current Senior Minister Mr Lee Hsien Loong continues to support the work of the organisation in helping Singaporeans and Singapore enterprises seize business opportunities in China and enter the Chinese market.

These quotes are extracted from a bilingual speech Mr Lee gave at the Business China Awards in 2013.

China's next phase of development will be different from the past...we must find new solutions as our own circumstances change so we can continue to improve Singaporean's lives and remain relevant to other countries, including China.

我国企业也要为进军中国市场做好准备。先 掌握好中国市场的实际情形,了解各方面的 运作须知,认识行家还有他们的实力。再配 合加强语言能力、文化习俗、商业礼仪等资 讯.....我们必须继续努力。

作为通商中国的赞助人,新加坡第三任总 理、现任国务资政李显龙先生继续支持通 商中国的工作,帮助新加坡人和新加坡企 业把握中国商机,进入中国市场。

Chairman's Message

"Together with partners from all sectors, we contributed to strengthening Singapore-China relations and fostering bilingual and bicultural talents."

The year 2024 was one of both achievements and breakthroughs for Business China. Against an increasingly uncertain global landscape, we remained committed to our three strategic objectives: nurturing Singapore-Chinaready youths, cultivating Singapore-Chinasavvy business leaders and enterprises, and developing knowledge platforms and premium networks on China.

Under the guidance of our patrons, advisors, and board members, we organised over 70 events throughout the year, reaching more than 6,000 participants. Business China not only maintained the breadth and quality of our existing programs but also continued to innovate in youth development, enterprise empowerment, and knowledge exchange. Together with partners from all sectors, we contributed to strengthening Singapore-China relations and fostering bilingual and bicultural talents.

This year, we were especially heartened to see more youths taking the initiative to engage with and understand China. Business China initiatives such as the Youth Interns Exchange Scheme, Business China Youth Knowledge Programme, China Studies Perspective Forum, internship sharing sessions, and career workshops on Chinese-language interview skills-all garnered enthusiastic responses from students of all ages. At the same time,

A major highlight was the exclusive dialogue with SM Lee, which attracted widespread attention both domestically and internationally. During the on-stage conversation, SM Lee shared incisive perspectives on critical issues such as global geopolitics, regional cooperation, and China's evolving role-delivering pragmatic and insightful analysis that reflected his strategic foresight and seasoned leadership. The dialogue not only set a high-calibre tone for the forum but also provided invaluable insights into Asia's future trajectory. Since its founding in 2007, Business China has stayed true to its original mission. As the operating environment undergoes profound changes, we undertook a brand refresh in 2024, infusing Business China with more contemporary and recognisable elements. By adopting a professional, neutral, and adaptable approach, we strengthened our communication capabilities in the new media era while preserving our traditions. Looking ahead, we will continue to strengthen and renew our organisation, as we progress with the times. Together with our partners, we will seize new opportunities, create new value, and collectively nurture the next generation of leaders who will carry forward the torch the first batch of Singapore Education Scholarship recipients from China arrived in Singapore, embarking on their bilingual and bicultural educational journey. Business China is proud to support these young minds as they grow into the next generation of Singapore-China-savvy talents. To support the long-term development of the new generation of China-savvy enterprises and business leaders, the 2024 Advanced Leaders Programme focused on China's Transition to a Knowledge-Based Economy. After completing systematic training in Singapore, the participants travelled to Guangzhou, Shenzhen, and Chengdu to conduct on-site visits to innovative technology companies such as BYD, Tencent, and WeRide. This deepened their understanding of China's economic framework and innovation system, broadened their horizons beyond the classroom and kept them closely updated on industry advancements. We also organised ministerial dialogues, facilitating in-depth exchanges between political leaders and business representatives to deepen mutual understanding and trust. In 2024, we continued to expand our knowledge platform on China-related issues. Through diversified initiatives such as the FutureChina Series and the Business China Youth Forum, we focused on key topics of global relevance. The structure of the 2024 FutureChina Global Forum was also enhanced, featuring five keynote discussions, an entrepreneur spotlight dialogue, an exclusive dialogue with Senior Minister (SM) Lee Hsien Loong, and three closed-door roundtables. These upgrades significantly elevated the forum's depth and prestige, reinforcing its role as a vital window for global stakeholders to understand China and the world.

As we conclude a successful 2024, we extend our deepest gratitude to all friends who have supported Business China!

of Singapore-China relations.

In 2024, Business China continued to advance its annual work plan in a systematic and multi-tiered manner, covering three key areas: youth development, corporate talent cultivation, and the development of public knowledge platforms.

In nurturing bilingual and bicultural, Singapore-China-ready youth, we promoted the Singapore-China Youth Interns Exchange Scheme (YES) through campus visits at higher education institutions. Nearly 100 students have participated in internships in China and many subsequently shared their experiences at the inaugural YES Forum. Additionally, we launched "Chinese CV Writing and Interviewing in Mandarin" workshops to enhance youth's understanding of business cultural differences between Singapore and China, and to improve their Mandarin interview skills. This year, the first batch of the Singapore Education Scholarship recipients successfully enrolled in local secondary schools. Business China regularly organises various youth exchange activities, including bilingual forums for secondary school students, China internship experience sharing sessions, and interest groups.

We also held seminars addressing social issues of concern to youth and introduced the Business China Youth Knowledge mandarin programme, which covers general knowledge about China, Singapore-China relations, and corporate visits, strengthening the connection between classroom knowledge and real-world applications. The programme attracted students from 10 Junior Colleges.

We continued to promote high-level exchanges and develop knowledge platforms to further expand our mindshare. The 2024 FutureChina Global Forum set a new attendance record, with over 900 participants on-site and nearly 800,000 online viewers. In collaboration with Lianhe Zaobao, we organised two FutureChina events: a Dialogue with Minister Liu Jianchao of the International Department of the CPC Central Committee, as well as the Decoding China's Two Sessions Forum. These provided high-quality platforms for members from various sectors interested in Chinese politics and current affairs, deepening their understanding of China's political developments and policy trends.

The smooth running of our organisation relies on a strong team, stable funding support, and sound governance mechanisms. In 2024, Business China took a critical step in our organisational development. We successfully secured long-term co-funding from the Tote Board, extending its funding support until 2028, thereby laying a solid foundation for our future growth. At the same time, we optimised our staff compensation system in line with industry benchmarks to ensure competitiveness and attractiveness. Business China is now better positioned to attract and retain strong talent, particularly bilingual and bicultural professionals, who are committed to our work on Singapore-China exchanges. We also refined our internal policies to comply with the revised Charities Code of Governance, with effect from 1 January 2024. For Year 2024, our governance assessment score was more than 90%, demonstrating the effectiveness of our governance.

The development of Business China owes much to the generous support from various sectors of society. This year's Fundraising Golf Tournament and Dinner, supported by Deputy Prime Minister Gan Kim Yong, achieved its fundraising target, reflecting the strong endorsement from our members and partners. Your trust will inspire us to keep moving forward. Throughout the year, Business China also arranged several closed-door dialogues, where Deputy Prime Minister Heng Swee Keat, Ministers Chan Chun Sing, Tan See Leng and Senior Minister of State Tan Kiat How engaged in in-depth exchanges with industry leaders, strengthening mutual understanding and trust between the government and business leaders.

Moving forward, we will continue to focus on the three core areas of "youth, enterprises, and platforms," constantly improving our content framework and collaboration mechanisms. We thank all our supporters and partners for their trust, and we will strive for even greater success!
